Nellis Klock Family and the Newspaper Business

Rev. Nellis Klock was born August 24, 1831 in Montgomery County, New York. He was the son of Danial J. Klock and Nancy Nellis. Rev. Nellis Klock was a Methodist Minister, a School Teacher, and a Newspaper Owner and Editor.

Nellis Klock was the founder of the Holland Sentinel in Holland, Michigan. He founded the Holland Sentinel in 1896 which is still in business today in the City of Holland.. He also published another paper in Holland called the Independent, a weekly newspaper that continued until 1904. The Holland City Directory (1897 - 1898) has him listed as living at 190 E. Eight Street in Holland Michigan. The U.S Post Office is now at that address. The City Directory lists Nellis L. Klock as publisher; Ernest G. Klock as Associate Editor; Lillian I. Klock and Ida Klock as Compositors. Nellis Klock married Lovian T. Ottman who was also born in New York. Lovian Ottman was also a school teacher. Nellis Klock and Lovian had five children, Jay E., John Nellis, Ernest G., Lillian I. and Ida. All were in the Newspaper Business. Nellis sold the Holland Sentinel to Roland C. Eisley, from Benton Harbor, Michigan, after two years of running the Sentinel. Nellis Klock son John Nellis Klock married Carrie Belle Eisley so I would think that Roland Eisley would have been the brother of Carrie Belle Eisley. Roland Eisley ran the paper for several years and moved the paper several times within the City of Holland. Today the Holland Sentenel, still in business is the largest newspaper in the city. It is hard to find copies of the Holland Sentenel before 1912. No complete collection of the sentinels exists before 1912. No one knows for sure, but rumors have it that the editors and early staff members burned the back copies to keep warm. Some copies of the Sentinel was found tucked away in a metal trunk in by Jan Brower in 1996. In 1909, Mrs. Brower's father, Herman Keikenveldt, then a boy of 11, started out at the Sentinel earning $1.00 per week delivering papers. He later became a pressman. He keep the copies of the Sentinel in the old trunk. John Nellis Klock, the son of Rev. Nellis Klock, was also a Newspaper Editor. John was born Oct. 18, 1865 in Lawrence County, New York. He founded the Stockton Harald in 1888 at the age of 22. He was the Founder of the Evening News and later the News-Palladium in Benton Harbor, Michigan. He is considered Benton Harbors the Greatest Builder. His monuments are all about the City of Benton Harbor. John Nellis Klock served as chairman of the First Congregational United Church of Christ. on the building committee when the current church building was constructed. He donated the 15 bell carillon and the E.M. Skinner organ to the church. He gave the 90 acre track of land on Lake Michigan to the city which is know as Jean Klock Park. Named after his daughter, who died in infancy. Today Jean Klock Park is a priceless municipal possession that stretches a half mile along Lake Michigan's shore. He also developed Roosevelt Park, another gift to the city. He donated the funds to built a pool at the YMCA. John Nellis Klock was President of the Benton Harbor Malleable, and under his administration it became one of the city's most prosperous industries. He was also President of the Mercy Hospital for many years where he donated the money to build a wing on the Hospital and was a one term mayor of the city of Benton Harbor.

Jay E. Klock was the eldest son of Rev. Nellis Klock. He was born in Hammond, New York, on February 14, 1864. Jay Klock attended Albany Academy, but did not graduate. In 1885. He took a job at the Albany Eveing Journal. He was a proofreader, reporter, and telegraph editor. Later he bought the Ogedensburg Signal, a local paper his father was then running. He later sold that paper and returned to the Albany Journal as a editorial writer and reporter of the state senate. He remained there until 1889, when he purchased controlling interest in the Daily Times, a paper of political independence in Little Falls, New York. Then in 1891 he purchased the Kingston Daily Freeman, the Republican official paper of Ulster County. Jay Klock left a sum of money which the Key Bank in New York now administrates. The income from the funds is used exclusively for grants for charitable, religious, scientific, literary or educational purposes.

Note: Nellis Klock was a ordained minister. He held charges at Avoca, Sharon, Knox, Orleans and Louisburg in the state of Illinois. He stoped preaching because of an affection of the throat. He later became a fruit farmer in Illinois and died in 1911.

Notes for JAY E. KLOCK:

Jay E. Klock was the eldest son of Nellis Klock. He was born in Hammond, New York on February 14, 1864. His mother and father were school teachers, since there was no compulsory school attendance at that time, he was educated at home. He attended the Albany Academy, but did not remain to graduate. He got a job at the Albany Evening Journal as a proofreader reporter and telegraph editor. Two years later he bought the Ogdensburg Signal, a local paper his father was running. A year or so later, Jay sold the Ogdensburg

Signal and returned to the staff of the Journal as editorial writer and reporter of the state senate. He remained there until 189. He then purchased a controlling interest in the Daily Times, a paper of political independence in Little Falls, New York. In 1891 he purchased the Kingston Daily Freeman, the Republican official paper of Ulster county. Jay belonged to the Masonic order, being a Shriner. Jay also belonged to the Elks and the Royal Arcanum.

The following was in the Commercial Advertiser, Canton, N.Y., Tuesday, September 27, 1927

The Ogdensburg Signal ceased to exist last week when its editor, J. Emerson Klock, announced that its Subscription list and accounts had been sold to the Northern Tribune of Gouverneur. Another Klock stopped!

The 1900 U.S Census for Baldwin, Iosco, Michigan has:

Isaack Klock
Home in 1900: Baldwin, Iosco, Michigan
Age: 70
Estimated Birth Year: abt 1830
Birthplace: New York
Relationship to head-of-house: Head
Race: White

In the above Census I find no record of a John E. Klock being the son of Isaac. Yet, I know Diantha was a witness at the marriage of John E. Klock and Emma Davis. They were married in Tuscola County, Michigan Oct. 12, 1873. Charles is listed in the 1860 Census as a child of Isaac. According to an old newspaper clipping from Saginaw, Michigan.

DIED IN GREAT AGONY

A Veteran Soldier of the Civil War Dies Rather Mysteriously.

After having been ill but a few hours, Priskas Klock died at mid night Saturday in great agony, the symptoms of his illness bearing somewhat of a resemblance to those accompanying poisoning. Coroner Grube, who was called, does not take much stock in the poison story, but in order to ascertain accurately the cause of death, he decided to hold an inquest, fixing the hour for 10 o'clock this morning, at hose house # 8. James Lester, John Taylor, Charles Robinson, T.E. Wellmen, William Wirtz and Charles Richardson, were impaneled as the jury. Deceased was 61 years of age and was a veteran of the civil war, having served in Co. I, Tenth Michigan infantry. He leaves a son, residing in Bay City, and two brothers, John and Charles of Tuscola.

At the coroner's inquest, held yesterday at the hose house # 8, over the remains of Priskas Klock, whose sudden death Saturday night has been mentioned, the jury found that death was due to congestion of the brain, and not poisoning, as was first rumored. A brief funeral service was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 609 Russell street, and the remains were laid to rest in the soldiers' plot in Forest Lawn cemetery.

From the above newspaper clipping, I think John was the son of Benjamin Klock and not Isaac as I have listed. Charles may also have been the son of Benjamin and Anna Ritter.

Notes for HENRY KLOCK:

Henry Klock ran a woolen mill in Elgin, then bought the wollen mill in Fayette, Iowa in 1866. His son, George remained in Elgin, probably to run that mill while Henry ran the one in Fayette. The large industrial mills that were being developed around Rail Road centers put the smaller woolen mills out of business. The land between the old mill run and the Volga River as it went around the bend on the west side of today's Fayette, became known as Klock's Island as the water on both sides and in the old days was only crossed by river fords.

Henry and his son George Klock cleared out the brush and cut nearly all the trees on the Island except the walnuts and butternuts. That cutting developed the present grove of nut trees. Today there is a Park on Klock Island.
