Descendants of Conrad Klock

Generation No. 1

1. CONRAD² CLOCK (HENDRICK¹ KLOCK) was born Abt. 1722 in Palatine, Montgomery, New York, and died 1816 in Town of Lenox, Madison Co, New York. He married ANNA ELIZABETH DYGERT in Albany Co. New York. She was born Abt. 1730 in German Flatts, Herkimer, New York, and died 1791 in Albany County, New York.

Notes for CONRAD CLOCK:

Military: Revolutionary War. 4 Private in Col Klock's Regiment, 2nd Tryon Co.

Listed in 1790 Census, Montgomery, New York as Conradt Clock. Conradt was one of the first settlers in Fairfield, New York. and was one of the first settlers and founder of Clocksville, New York. The land was purchased from Oneida Indians in 1802. The town of Clocksville was named after him.

Conrad Clock was a pvt. in Col. Jacob Klock's Reg't. of the New York Militia. Conrad and his sons, Jacob and Joseph were captured in Fairfield during one of British raids. They were taken to Canada. They then enlisted into the British Army. They were ordered to the Mohawk Valley to fight, instead they deserted the British Army and returned home. Conrad and some of his children later returned to Canada where some of his descendants live today. Conrad was a large man, when he ran out of ammunition, he used a large club on the heads of his enemy.

From Klock Connections: Issue # 22 May 2003

Conrad Klock

Conrad Klock, the son of Hendrick Klock, was born about 1722. Conrad was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and survived the battle of Oriskany. The battle of Oriskany was one of the bloodiest battles of the Revolution. In the work of Sherman O Klock, Conrad is described as, "a man of powerful physique who when his ammunition gave out, wielded a hug club over the craniums of several of the enemy." Conrad was a Pvt. In Col. Jabob Klock's Regiment of the New York Militia.

Conrad and his sons, Jacob and Joseph were captured in Fairfield during one of the British raids and were taken to Canada. Their they enlisted into the British Army. They were ordered to the Mohawk Valley to fight, instead they deserted the British Army and returned home to the Mohawk Valley. Conrad is listed in the 1790 Census, Montgomery, New York as Conradt Clock. Conrad was on of the first settlers in Fairfield, New York and the town of Clockville took it's name.

The Klock-Clock Genealogy says that Conrad married Ann Elizabeth Dygert and they had eight children. Conrad went by the "K" spelling of his last name and two of his children, Conrad Jr. and Adam used the "C" spelling for his name. Some of the descendants of Conrad Jr. and Adam have continued to use the "C" spelling

SOK Genealogy:

Conrad Klock (No 9) born _____, died _____ married Elizabeth Dygert, born about 1730, the daughter of Johan

Peter Dygert and his wife, Anna Elizabeth Fox. Johan Peter (or Peter as he was commonly called) Dygert was born near Strasburg, Germany in 1680 and was married there at the age of 25. He came to this country with the Palatines in 1710. Peter and Anna Elizabeth were the parents of the following children:

1. Theobald, (David) born at sea, married Maria Kingert Loucks.
2. Delia, born about 1712, married Johannes Reeber.
3. Margaret, born about 1715, married 1st. Peter Weber (Weaver) 2nd William Finck.
4. Severinus, born about 1718, married Gertrude Ecker.
5. Peter P., born about 1721, married Anna Barbara Kock (Cook) .
6. William, born at Schoharie, Oct. 3, 1723, died at Frankfort, N.Y. May 28, 1802, married 1st. Maria Elizabeth Ecker, 2nd. Margaret Cunningham.
7. Henry, born about 1725, married Anna Margaret _____?
8. Gertrude, born about 1726, married Johan George Loucks.
9. Barbara, born 1728, married Baltus Koch (Cook) son of Casper Koch.
10. Elizabeth, born about 1730, married Conrad Klock

Note: The above Dygert records were given by Frank D. Deuel of Schenectady, N.Y. , himself a Dygert descendent, and a genealogist of repute. They no doubt are correct. He also states that Conrad and Elizabeth had the following children: Conrad, Johannes, and Jacob C.

Conrad Klock (No. 9) called a minor in the will of his father (Hendrick No. 1) in 1743, was born no earlier than 1722. As the birth date of is wife Anna Elizabeth is given as about 1730, it is reasonable to believe that his own occured between the years 1722 and 1730. Following this line of reasoning we will place the births of their children as occuring between the years 1748 and 1770, with Conrad Jr. as his first son.

Preceeding the Revolution we find him located in "Klock's Bush", now the present Town of Fairfield, N.Y. , then a part of the Royal Grant, and quite near the present village of Fairfield. This settlement was also known as "Multaner's Bush", and a small brook heading in a large spring near where this settlement was, is today called, "Multaner's Creek". With Conrad at this settlement were Adam, Joseph, and Jacob Klock; the first two being his brothers no doubt, while Jacob may have been a son of Johannes or Hans Hendrick and a nephew of the others. In the invasion of this settlement by tories and Indians in March 1778, Conrad was surprised and taken prisoner as were the other Klock's named above. It is said that Conrad and Jacob enlisted in the British service in order to get a chance to return to the valley, and coming down with an invading party they deserted it at a favorale momment and joined their families.

Conrad Klock probably never returned to the settlement at Fairfield. Whether or not he was the Conrad Klock, who settled on "Lebox territory" after the Revolution remains to be learned. (See next page) Born between the dates given above, it would seem that he was to old a man to strike out on such an undertaking, and so we are inclined to think that Conrad Jr. was the man. The number that follow (1642 to 1737) were undoubtedly descendants of Conrad Klock and Anna Elizabeth Dygert, whoes children as given by Frank D. Deuel are listed below.

Conrad Jr.
Johannis
Jacob C.

In the Second Regiment of Tyron County Militia, commanded by Col. Jacob Klock are found the names of Jacob Conrad Klock, and Conrad Klock, the first as Lieutenant, and the latter as a Private. Who were they? It would apear to the writer that Jacob Conrad Klock, grown to manhood in 1777, was the son of Conrad Sr., and the Conrad as listed also his son. No were do we find two Conrad's listed in the Revolution, which leads one to believe that Conrad Sr, was slain at the battle of Oriskany or died previously. But whether it be Conrad Sr., or Conrad Jr., we know that one or the other particated at the battle of Oriskany. Old penson papers which hav elain dormant for years in the files at Washington are being brought to light and their contents revealed. In on of these we learn that Conrad Klock participated in a hand to hand fight with Indians at the battle of Oriskany armed only with a stout handspike.

In 1755 we find him as one of the petioners to the Honorable James DeLancy for an application for a land Patent, of land lying between the two Canada Creeks and 25 miles back of the river. This was Conrad Sr.

Tradition says that Conrad Klock, with his sons Conrad, John and Joseph settled on Lenox territory as the first pioneers, having come from the Mohawk Valley. Tradition further says that by mistake at Washington, where the apportionment of land was made, the name "Klock" was said to have been spelled "Clock", and so "Clockville" N.Y. took on its present name.

But "tradition" forgets that the name "Klock", with its various ways of being spelt in the early days, was also spelt "Clock", and we have no doubt but what Conrad, like some other Klocks of the day, spelt his name with a "C". Be that as it may, the fact remains that Clockville took on its name from this man.

"In the year 1792, Conrad Klock and his sons, Joseph, John and Conrad settled on Lenox territory as the first pioneers, locating on the Cowasselon Creek on the site of Clockville, which took its name from them."-- Our County and its people; a descriptive and biographical record of Madison County, New York.

Conrad Klock, Sr

Birth: 1722

Death: 1815

1792 Settler, purchased 250 A. from Oneida Indian Reservation in 1801. Property was in family for 45 years. Came from the Mohawk Valley with sons. Husband of Anna Elizabeth Dygert. He is assumed buried here. Revolutionary War Veteran.

Listed in 1790 Census, Montgomery, New York as Conradt Clock. Conradt was one of the first settlers in Fairfield, New York, and was one of the first settlers and founder of Clockville, New York. The land was purchased from Oneida Indians in 1802. The town of Clockville was named after him. Conrad Clock was a pvt. in Col. Jacob Klock's Reg't. of the New York Militia. Conrad and some of his children later returned to Canada where some of his descendants live today. Conrad was a large man, when he ran out of ammunition, he used a large club on the head of his enemy.

Burial: Clock (Klock) Farm Cemetery, Cottons, Madison County, New York

Conrad Klock and his three sons, John, Joseph, and Conrad Jr. bought the first tract of land in the town of Lincoln. Arriving in 1792, from the Mohawk Valley. They also founded settlements at Canaseraga in Sullivan and Quality Hill in Lenox. The first small hamlet in Lincoln was called Shippeville but was later renamed Clockville in honor of its founders.

6. viii. CONRAD CLOCK, JR., b. January 1778; d. May 04, 1864, Lenox, Madison Co., New York.

Generation No. 2

2. JACOB CONRAD³ CLOCK (CONRAD², HENDRICK¹ KLOCK) was born 1750 in St. Johnsville, Montgomery Co., New York, and died 1832 in Toronto, York Co. On.. He married ANNA EVA STARING February 19, 1774 in Dutch Reformed Church, German Flatts Twp. Herkimer. She was born Abt. 1759.

Notes for JACOB CONRAD CLOCK:

Jacob Conrad Clock was born about 1754. He married Anna Eva Staring. She was born about 1759. They were married Feb. 19, 1774 in the Dutch Reformed Church, German Flatts Township, Herkimer, New York.

Jacob Conrad Clock was a Lieutenant in Col. Jacob Klock's Reg. of the Continental Army. He was taken prisoner by the British and taken to Montreal, Canada in 1780. In Montreal he signed up to fight for the British in the in the second battalion of the British Kings Royal Regiment of New York under Sir John Johnson. He was send to attack the people of his home in the Mohawk Valley. Once there he deserted and returned home to his wife and family. Later, in 1802 Jacob and Anna returned to Canada to live.

Jacob Conrad Clock and Anna Staring had thirteen children. Some stayed in New York and and some moved to Canada with them.

Ken D. Johnson, The Bloodied Mohawk has the following:

Jacob C. Klock. He was a son of Conrad Klock. He married as Jacob Conr. Klock on February 19, 1774 Anna Eva Jac: Staring (Henry Huber, RWPA # W23355) He served in the war as a second lieutenant in Captain Severinus Casselman's Company of the Kingsland and German Flatts District Regiment of Tryon County Militia (Fernow;297). He was taken by the enemy in the April 3, 1780 raid on Remensnyder's Bush and surrendered himself to his father and Captain Abner French at Fort Wallrad in August of 1782. A Jacob House states he was present at Colonel Campbell's House in Montreal and heard Klock refuse to take the oath, instead opting to serve in Sir John's Corps in order to avail himself of an opportunity to escape (Depositions of Jacob C. Klock and Jacob House, NYHS Mss #231950).

Spouse: Anna Eva Staring 1759

Notes for ANNA EVA STARING:

Anna Staring (Staring) was the daughter of Jacob Staring/Staring.

Children of JACOB CLOCK and ANNA STARING are:

- i. LENA⁴ CLOCK, b. Abt. 1776; m. JOHANNES G. ETEL, 1793.

Notes for LENA CLOCK:

Lean was baptized 17 Sept 1776 at German Flatts, N.Y. It is believed she married Johannes G. Etel in 1793. I have no additional on her.

7.
 - ii. JACOB CLOCK, b. Abt. 1778.
 - iii. CATHERINE CLOCK, b. Abt. 1780, St. Johnville, New York; m. GEORGE RISENBURGH, March 08, 1803, St. James Parish, York Township, Canada.

Notes for CATHERINE CLOCK:

George and Catherine may have had a daughter named Eliza who married a man by the last name of Scarlet. The marriage would have been short because Eliza Scarlet then married Jacob Delong on Jan 22, 1828 and David and Diver Clock were witnesses to the marriage. After the death of Jacob Delong, Eliza married a John Burkholder.

- iv. UNKNOWN CLOCK, b. 1782.

Notes for UNKNOWN CLOCK:

Could this unknown Clock be Orizus Klock. He was born in Abt. 1804 in Canada?

8. v. MARGARET CLOCK, b. Abt. 1784, St. Johnville, New York.

- vi. JOSEPH CLOCK, b. Abt. 1785; d. 1870.

Notes for JOSEPH CLOCK:

There is a Joseph Klock (Clock) buried in Brewerton Cemetery, Brewerton, New York that served as Private in the War of 1812 and died July 20, 1873. Not sure if he is the same Joseph.

Notes for CONRAD CLOCK, JR.:

Military Service: War of 1812.

Children of CONRAD CLOCK and KAZIAH CARISH are:

- i. JOSEPH⁴ CLOCK.

Notes for JOSEPH CLOCK:

Little is known at present of this man or his descendants. He also seems to have been a settler at Fairfield, then a part of the Royal Grant, and known as Klock's or Multanner's Bush. He was a private in Col. Jacob Klock's Regiment, but as yet nothing has come to light to show that he was engaged at Oriskany.----SOK

Joseph also served in the War of 1812. This Joseph may have been the child of Conrad Klock Jr.

Generation No. 3

7. JACOB⁴ CLOCK (JACOB CONRAD³, CONRAD², HENDRICK¹ KLOCK) was born Abt. 1778. He married MARGARET ELIZABETH CHRISTMAN. She was born February 23, 1777.

Notes for JACOB CLOCK:

Jacob may have went by the spelling of Klock. Jacob Clock or Klock was baptized 24 Jan 1778 at German Flatts N.Y.

SOK Genealogy has Jacob as "Unclassified". SOK had the children of Jacob, with the "K" spelling of Klock. Information on the line of Jacob Clock (Klock) comes from the SOK Genealogy.

Columbia Reformed Church Records has;

Adam Klock, s/o Jacob and Margaret Klock, born 8/18/1806; Bapism 9/30/1806, Sponsors George Hills and Elizabeth Christman--Year 1813

Eva Klock, d/o Jacob and Margaret Klock, born 3/30/1809, Bapism 7/12/1809, Sponsors Barentz Christman and his wife Margaret.

Catherine Glock, d/o Jacob Glock and Catherine House, Born 12/28/1812 Bapism 6/10/1813--Year 1809

Interesting that the above record of birth of Catherine gives the parents as Jacob Glock and Catherine House and Elizabeth Christman is listed as sponsors of Adam and Eva. I have Margaret Elizabeth Klock as the parents of Adam and Eva. Margaret was already married to Jacob. So it must be a different Elizabeth Christman.

There is an Orizus Klock on my tree that I do not know his father's name. Could Orizus be the son of Jacob?

Children of JACOB CLOCK and MARGARET CHRISTMAN are:

- i. MARIA (POLLY)⁵ CLOCK, b. 1797.
