Descendants of Magdalena Klock

This Klock Family Tree was compiled by Dave Klock of Marcellus, Michigan. Some of the information is unsubstantiated and therefore may not be Reliable. All family trees have errors; they are unavoidable, miss-typed dates, people in the wrong family line, spelling of names, etc. If you find errors, please let me know so I can correct them.

Generation No. 1

1. MAGDALENA<sup>2</sup> KLOCK (HENDRICK<sup>1</sup>) She married WILLIAM NELLIS. He was born January 07, 1693/94 in Heidleburg, Baden, Germany.

Notes for WILLIAM NELLIS:

Christian and William Nellis came to America with the Palatines about 1710 with a sister Catharine Nellis who married a Krauss. They were the first white settlers in and about the Palatine Church district. They settled just east of the present village of St. Johnsville. William Nellis Sr. and George Klock acquired the Klock and Nellis Patent.

Note: Hendrick Klock had two daughters, Barvalis (Barbara) Klock who married Christian Nellis. and may have had a daughter, Magdalene who married William Nellis. Although doubt exist if Magdalene Klock married William Nellis. It is now believed that William Nellis married Ana Sabina Dygert and not Magdalene Klock, Magdalene may have married Lt. John Bellinger. The "Genealogy of the Mohawk Valley Bellingers and Allied Families by Lyle Frederick Bellinger", says that Hendrick Klock had three daughters; Barvalis, who married Christian Nellis; Margaret who married William Nellis; and Maria Magdalena who married Lt. John Bellinger. Willis "Skip" Barsheid, has the original will of William Nellis, found in a box of papers he purchased from a descendent, unfortunately this Will does not shed light on who the wife of William Nellis really was.

William's name was Johann Wilhelm Nellis.

I am changing my tree and putting in that William Nellis married Anna Sabina Dygert. Magdalene may have married Lt. John Bellinger. Below is what I have on William Nellis, however I do not think he married Magdalena Klock.

Generation No. 1

1. WILLIAM<sup>1</sup> NELLIS was born January 07, 1693/94 in Heidleburg, Baden, Germany. He married (1) ANNA SABINA DYGERT in Stone Arabia. She was born January 01, 1697/98 in Langensebold, Germany.. He married (2) MAGDALENA KLOCK, daughter of HENDRICK KLOCK and MARIA SCHOPFERIN.

Notes for WILLIAM NELLIS:

Nellis Klock Family and the Newspaper Business

Rev. Nellis Klock was born August 24, 1831 in Montgomery County, New York. He was the son of Danial J. Klock and Nancy Nellis. Rev. Nellis Klock was a Methodist Minister, a School Teacher, and a Newspaper Owner and Editor.

Nellis Klock was the founder of the Holland Sentinel in Holland, Michigan. He founded the Holland Sentinel in 1896 which is still in business today in the City of Holland. He also published another paper in Holland called the Independent, a weekly newspaper that continued until 1904. The Holland City Directory ( 1897 - 1898 ) has him listed as living at 190 E. Eight Street in Holland Michigan. The U.S Post Office is now at that address. The City Directory lists Nellis L. Klock as publisher; Ernest G. Klock as Associate Editor; Lillian I. Klock and Ida Klock as Compositors. Nellis Klock married Lovian T. Ottman who was also born in New York. Lovian Ottman was also a school teacher. Nellis Klock and Lovian had five children, Jay E., John Nellis, Ernest G., Lillian I. and Ida. All were in the Newspaper Business. Nellis sold the Holland Sentinel to Roland C. Eisley, from Benton Harbor, Michigan, after two years of running the Sentinel. Nellis Klock son John Nellis Klock married Carrie Belle Eisley so I would think that Roland Eisley would have been the brother of Carrie Belle Eisley. Roland Eisley ran the paper for several years and moved the paper several times within the City of Holland. Today the Holland Sentenel, still in business is the largest newspaper in the city. It is hard to find copies of the Holland Sentenel before 1912. No complete collection of the sentinels exists before 1912. No one knows for sure, but rumors have it that the editors and early staff members burned the back copies to keep warm. Some copies of the Sentinel was found tucked away in a metal trunk in by Jan Brower in 1996. In 1909, Mrs. Brower's father, Herman Keikenveldt, then a boy of 11, started out at the Sentinel earning $1.00 per week delivering papers. He later became a pressman. He keep the copies of the Sentinel in the old trunk. John Nellis Klock, the son of Rev. Nellis Klock, was also a Newspaper Editor. John was born Oct. 18, 1865 in Lawrence County, New York. He founded the Stockton Harald in 1888 at the age of 22. He was the Founder of the Evening News and later the News-Palladium in Benton Harbor, Michigan. He is considered Benton Harbors the Greatest Builder. His monuments are all about the City of Benton Harbor. John Nellis Klock served as chairman of the First Congregational United Church of Christ. on the building committee when the current church building was constructed. He donated the 15 bell carillon and the E.M. Skinner organ to the church. He gave the 90 acre track of land on Lake Michigan to the city which is know as Jean Klock Park. Named after his daughter, who died in infancy. Today Jean Klock Park is a priceless municipal possession that stretches a half mile along Lake Michigan's shore. He also developed Roosevelt Park, another gift to the city. He donated the funds to built a pool at the YMCA. John Nellis Klock was President of the Benton Harbor Malleable, and under his administration it became one of the city's most prosperous industries. He was also President of the Mercy Hospital for many years where he donated the money to build a wing on the Hospital and was a one term mayor of the city of Benton Harbor.

Jay E. Klock was the eldest son of Rev. Nellis Klock. He was born in Hammond, New York, on February 14, 1864. Jay Klock attended Albany Academy, but did not graduate. In 1885. He took a job at the Albany Eveing Journal. He was a proofreader, reporter, and telegraph editor. Later he bought the Ogedensburg Signal, a local paper his father was then running. He later sold that paper and returned to the Albany Journal as a editorial writer and reporter of the state senate. He remained there until 1889, when he purchased controlling interest in the Daily Times, a paper of political independence in Little Falls, New York. Then in 1891 he purchased the Kingston Daily Freeman, the Republican official paper of Ulster County. Jay Klock left a sum of money which the Key Bank in New York now administrates. The income from the funds is used exclusively for grants for charitable, religious, scientific, literary or educational purposes.

Note: Nellis Klock was a ordained minister. He held charges at Avoca, Sharon, Knox, Orleans and Louisburg in the state of Illinois. He stopped preaching because of an affection of the throat. He later became a fruit farmer in Illinois and died in 1911.

Notes for JAY E. KLOCK:

Jay E. Klock was the eldest son of Nellis Klock. He was born in Hammond, New York on February 14, 1864. His mother and father were school teachers, since there was no compulsory school attendance at that time, he was educated at home. He attended the Albany Academy, but did not remain to graduate.

He got a job at the Albany Evening Journal as a proofreader reporter and telegraph editor. Two years later he bought the Ogdensburg Signal, a local paper his father was running. A year or so later, Jay sold the Ogdensburg Signal and returned to the staff of the Journal as editorial writer and reporter of the state senate. He remained there until 189. He then purchased a controlling interest in the Daily Times. a paper of political independence in Little Falls, New York. In 1891 he purchased the Kingston Daily Freeman, the Republican official paper of Ulster county. Jay belonged to the Masonic order, being a Shriner. Jay also belonged to the Elks and the Royal Areamum.

The following was in the Commercial Advertiser, Canton, N.Y. ,Tuesday, September 27, 1927

The Ogdensburg Signal ceased to exist last week when its editor, J. Emerson Klock, announced that it's Subscription list and accounts had been sold to the Northern Tribune of Gouverneur. Another Klock stopped!

He married ROSANNAH BURROUGHS. She was born March 25, 1836, and died November 19, 1895.

Notes for HENRY KLOCK:

Henry Klock ran a woolen mill in Elgin, then bought the woolen mill in Fayette, Iowa in 1866. His son, George remained in Elgin, probably to run that mill while Henry ran the one in Fayette. The large industrial mills that were being developed around Rail Road centers put the smaller woolen mills out of business. The land between the old mill run and the Volga River as it went around the bend on the west side of today's Fayette, became known as Klock's Island as the water on both sides and in the old days was only crossed by river fords.

Henry and his son George Klock cleared out the brush and cut nearly all the trees on the Island except the walnuts and butternuts. That cutting developed the present grove of nut trees. Today there is a Park on Klock Island.

E-mail From (Scott) Benlevi Six Crows--9/27/05
Greetings and thanks for e-mailing me back.

I believe that I have the information you need to fill the voids. Ann Eliza Klock was called Ida by her parents, James G and Sallie Klock. Ida was born in 1850 and married my great-grandfather Joel Rice Bennett on Dec.1,1875. Joel R. Bennett was born Jan 1, 1854 in Waterloo Iowa. Theirs was obviously a rocky marraige from the beginning with disapproval from her parents. He left shortly after their first child, Elsie Bennett(Hamburger) was born Dec. 12,1876. He reconciled long enough to produce their second daughter Gertrude b. April of 1879. Soon after, a divorce was obtained for Ida by her parents. Why the marraige did not succeed is mere speculation on my part but it may have been due to his philandering and mental cruelty. I do know a lot about his ancestry which is quite extensive. Both of his parents had Native American ancestry along with a pedigree going back to the 1st century C.E. in Europe. Joel R. Bennett's second wife died under mysterious circumstances and his third wife was my great grandmother Josephine Bequette who was nearly full-blooded Illiniwek (Native Am.) Their oldest daughter Hazel was my grandmother. But back to the Klock family, yes, Ida Klock married James Merril and had a son James Merril. Ida Klock(Bennett)Merril is buried at the cemetary in Chico Ca.,along with her James Merril and her daughter Elsie Bennett Hamburger. I have been there and photographed the graves. Elsie Bennett Hamburger had four children by Isaac Hamburger, Lewis(1906-2003),Nancy(1908-1986),Elsie Mae(1911-2003), and Helen(1915-1994). Lewis and Nancy had no children. Elsie Mae had one son, Robert Kitteridge who lives in Woodland Ca, and Helen had two daughters, Kay and Kirsten Krueger,both still living in Ca. Gertrude Bennett married Charles Sowder in 1902 and they had two children, Rev.Charles Sowder and James. I have photo of James and his wife Marie. They lived in Santa Cruz Ca. I mentioned the book by Elsie Hamburger,"I Never Look Back", which was written by Lois Halliday McDonald, whom I've met and talked family with just 2 years back. There is extensive information in that book about this side of the Klock family that you would find very interesting. I bought the book on line for a couple of bucks..I highly suggest you try and get it as it contains a wealth of info on the Klock family. The book contains many photographs. I hope that I may have been helpful in filling the gaps.

Your cousin in time, space,and family, (Scott) Benlevi Six Crows, NJ

She married ISAAC HAMBURGER in Helena Unitarian Church, Helena, Montana. He was born 1860 in Brooklyn, New York, and died October 21, 1923 in Seattle, Washington.

Notes for ELSIE MARIE BENNETT:

Elsie was a country school teacher, and later had a real estate and insurance office in Paradise, California.

I have a paper back book about the life of Elsie Hamburger. Written by Lois Halliday McDonald and published by Paradise Fact & Folklore, Inc., Paradise California. The book, Elsie Hamburger "I Never Look Back" "About the Subject" From the back cover of the book " Elsie Bennett Hamburger was a Paradise, California resident for nearly 50 years. She typified the "new woman" in an economic climate hostile to single parents. She broke the sex barrier as a professional person (in real estate) and in politics. In her later years, she was Butte County's "Mrs. Republican," correspondent for governors and presidents.

The book tells of her life and includes several family pictures, including that of her grandfather, James G. Klock and her grandmother Sally Ann Mason Klock. Elsie had little to do with her father, Joel Bennett and in fact had a strong dislike for him. She rarely saw him. Elsie married Ike Hamburger, sixteen years her senior. The romance was kept a secret until their marriage was announced in the newspapers all over Montana. After they were married they left Helena, Montana for Washington, D.C. where Isaac served as a private secretary to the Republican Senator from Montana, Thomas H. Carter.

Notes for ISAAC HAMBURGER:

Isaac Hamburger was the son of Morris and Anna Hamburger. Morris was born in Alsace, France, and his wife, Anna was born in England. Isaac (Ike) graduated from New York University, where he was an honor student. Before moving to Paradise, California in the 1919, Isaac Hamburger and his family lived in Alaska where Isaac was the private secretary and court reporter for E.E. Cushman, Judge of the Third Judicial Division of Territorial Alaska.--- From the book Elsie Hamburger "I Never Look Back."

The Death of Isaac Hamburger: From the Book Elsie Hamburger "I Never Look Back"

"On October 18, 1923, shortly before the evening dinner hour, a Seattle patrolman fired a fusillade of shots at a suspected shoplifter fleeing through dense crowds on Westlake Avenue, Seattle. Patrolman S.H. Short's bullets, fired at the sidewalk to frighten the fleeing suspect into submission, ricocheted into two passersby. One was Mrs. Violet Davis, two small children at her side. Her spinal cord was severed. The other chance target was Isaac Hamburger, shot through the abdomen. Judge E.E. Cushman, for whom Hamburger was secretary, narrowly escaped injury.

It was Friday morning, the 19th, before the telegram with news of Ike's injury, reached Elsie. She got word to Lewis to come home and made arrangements for the children to be cared for by Paradise neighbors. She was on the first available train out of Chico for Seattle on Saturday, and once on the train had more time than she would have chosen to think over both the situation ahead and the children left behind. In Portland she scribbled a hasty note to little Helen, who more than the others, Elsie feared, would be at a loss to understand the course of events. She sent back with the letter the telegram that had come to her, so that Lewis could read it to Helen and explain. But in the confusion, the letter did not get mailed.

It was in the early morning hours on Monday that the train pulled into the Seattle station and Elsie was whisked away to the hospital. Ike was conscious; he had, indeed, forced himself to remain clear, and when Elsie walked into his hospital room his face lighted with joy at seeing her. Then that well of energy he had tapped to live for a sight of her face, and word that his family was in good hands was exhausted, and Ike died holding Elsie's hand. It was 7:45 a.m., October 21."
