She was born August 19, 1866.

Notes for SHERMAN O. KLOCK:

I have included the genealogy from "History and Genealogy of the Klock Family" compiled by Sherman O. Klock in my Klock Family Tree. Sherman O. Klock spent a lot of time and money compiling his genealogy. When adding his information to my Klock Family Tree I noticed someone had typed in the date of death of Sherman O. Klock. I was under the belief that Sherman O. Klock; himself donated his genealogy to the archives in Albany, N.Y. Since someone typed in his date of death and inserted additional information in his genealogy after his death, someone in his family must have done this and then donated his genealogy to the Archives. Either, Mildred or Kenneth.

Notes for GUY ALMERON KLOCK:

Obituary of Dr. Guy A. Klock, Daytona Beach, Florida

From Sharon Yates, Daytona Beach, Florida

Dr. Guy A. Klock, 77, Dies; Founder First Hospital Here

Dr. Guy Klock, longtime resident and civic leader, who founded Daytona Beach's first hospital, dies at 8:25 last night at his home. Death came just two months after the prominent physician had retired after 47 years of practice and 10 days after his 77th. birthday. He lived at 210 South St. Dr. Klock was one of the oldest, practicing physicians in the City.

He moved here in 1906 after his graduation from the University of Michigan Medical School and founded Daytona Beach Sanitarium. He kept the Sanitarium open until 1944 when his only son, Floyd, an Air Force flight surgeon, died in a glider crash in England.

Dr. Klock and his son had planned to operate the place together after the war's end.

Dr. Klock was born in Edwardsville, New York and attended the State Normal School. He started his career as a country school teacher. He served in World War I as an Army Captain.

He served as a member of old Daytona's Council and after consolidation as City Commissioner for two terms. As City Commissioner he fought and helped abolish a practice of spending all the budget money before the end of the year and then borrowing money on time warrants.

He was a member of the Elks, Moose and the Assn. of Military Surgeons.

He is survived by his wife, Willie of Daytona Beach; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Bozeman Ormond Beach and Mrs. W.J. Rose, Holy Hill; 11 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Baggett-McIntosh is in charge of arrangements.

From Klock Connections, October 2002, Issue #15

Guy A. Klock

Guy A. Klock, M.D. (James Orville, Luther, John J. Jr. , John J., Johannes, Hendrick) was born April 5, 1876 in Edwardsville, N.Y. Guy's father, James Orville Klock was born in 1848 and spent his life as a successful farmer in Harrisville, New York. His mother was Helen (Hadlock) who was born May 3, 1843. Guy spent his youth working on his father's farm. He attended public schools and later attended the State Normal School and after graduating taught at Newton Falls, New York in 1900 to 1901. Then he entered the medical department of the University of Michigan. Guy worked as a Barber in the winter and a house painter in the summer to pay his way through Medical School. After he earned his medical degree, Dr. Klock moved to Daytona Beach Florida.

In June of 1906, Guy had to borrow money to pay for his railroad fare and he was broke when he arrived in Daytona Beach. Fortune smiled on Dr. Klock and he made 50 cents the first day he arrived in Daytona Beach.... His medical practice grew and in a few years he had built one of the best in the city.

Dr. Klock specialized in surgery and in 1907 opened the first private hospital at 42 Second Avenue in the old town of Daytona. He later purchased property at 532 South Beach Street and moved in there, enlarging his private hospital.

In 1912 he went to Europe and attended the International Meeting for Research Work at Dresden, Germany, paying special attention to the lectures on the subject of tropical diseases. Again in 1925 he went to Vienna for two months to study and expand his knowledge in surgery.

In 1917 he volunteered under the Red Cross for the United States Public Health Services and for a long time held and performed the duties of Acting Assistant Surgeons of the U.S. Department of Public Health.

During WW-1, Dr. Klock was stationed at Panama City, Florida. He later joined a company of the Florida National Guard as a private and was promoted to First Lieutenant in 1919 and in 1920 the Adjutant General appointed him to State Surgeon of the Medical Corps of the Florida National Guard with the rank of Major. The Governor of Florida appointed him on the Board of Medical Examiners. He later resigned this position.

In the fall of 1920 he was one of five physicians appointed by the U.S. Government to receive post-graduate training in the Army Medical School at Washington. After completion of his work, he received his diploma on May 26, 1921.

Dr. Guy Klock took great interest in local government, serving eight years as a member of City Council and twelve years as City Health Officer of old Daytona. He was once nominated for the United States Senate for the state of Florida and received a flattering vote for the office. Dr. Klock was a member of the Association of Military Surgeons. An article about Dr. Klock appears in the Who's Who and What to See in Florida and in the History of Volusia County, Florida. Dr. Klock was a member of the Elks, Moose and Maccabees.

Dr. Klock, married Frances Fearon of Morrisville, New York, in 1898. Guy and Frances had three children, Maude (Mrs. William McCoy) Dorothy and Floyd. In 1923 he married Wilbe H. Tallman of Baltimore. Guy and Betty had on child, Betty Ann.

Guy's only son, James Floyd Klock was an Air Force Flight Surgeon, and while stationed in London, England during WW-11, James Floyd was killed in a glider crash. Guy and his son, Floyd had plans on running the Klock Hospital together after the war. When his son was killed, he closed the Hospital in 1944. Dr. Klock continued practicing medicine. He was one of the oldest practicing physicians in Daytona until he was 76 years of age. He died in 1953, after 47 years of practice, two months after his retirement and 10 days after his 77 birthday.

Letter from John Klock, Feb. 2005

Dear Dave,

My great grandfather, Amos Klock, had two sons by his first wife and two daughters by his second. One son was my grandfather, Frederick, who was forced by Amos to marry my grandmother. He left shortly after my father was born and took the name of his mother and went by the name of Fred Weir. His mother also left Amos who remarried. His daughters were my two aunts, Mildred and Myrtle. They were my great aunts and were a great source of joy to me. They lived in Ogdensburg, New York. Mildred married and raised a family. Myrtle never married. Mildred was a talker. Myrtle wasn't. But whatever Mildred decided to do her younger sister followed. Aunt Mildred was a tireless organizer she was active in the VFW Auxilliary and the American Legion Auxilliary. She founded the St. Lawrence County Association of Senior Citizens.

In my last conversation with Aunt Mildred she was recovering from having broken her leg. She was being looked after by a convent of nuns at St. Joseph's in Ogdensburg. She was 93 and could talk any part of your body off. She got better and was discharged. Everytime I got back to the North Country I tried to visit her. But last spring. I didn't make it over to see her. She died at the age of 93 shortly before her 94th birthday in May of 2004. She was born in Edwards, New York. Her sister was her constant companion. Myrtle was born in Gouverneur, New York, my hometown, and where by great grandfather lived for over 50 years. Every organization my Aunt Mildred was a member of, she had Aunt Myrtle as a willing participant. Aunt Myrtle was a spinster and died shortly after Aunt Mildred at the age of 91. They were descendents of Hendrick Klock, Johannes Klock, John James Klock, John James Klock, Jr., Luther Klock, Bates Klock, and Amos Klock.

James R. Jackson, the son of Andrew S. Jackson and Hannah E. Klock Jackson, (Bates Aaron, Luther, John J. Jr., John J., Johannes J., and Hendrick Klock), was born September 17, 1921 in Lisbon, New York. His mother, Hannah died when James was just two years old. Hannah Klock was born March 29, 1894 and died October 27, 1923 probably from complications of childbirth. Andrew was busy raising three other children when Carlton was born. He could not take care of a new infant without his wife, so Carlton, who was born Oct. 20, was adopted by Hannah's sister and brother-in-law, Frank and Zelpha Ann (Klock) Bresett. His father, Andrew Jackson married Iva Speers sometime after the death of his first wife.

James Jackson enlisted in the Army two months prior to the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor, on December 7, 1941. He enlisted October 20, 1941 and on April 1942, was transferred to the Hawaiian Islands where he was stationed until some time in May.

James was a member of the 27 Infantry Regiment, which took part in the bloody invasion, and conquest of the Japanese held island of Saipan. In July of 1944, Pvt. James R. Jackson was reported missing in action in Saipan.

James Jackson never had a furlough or saw any of his family since he joined the Army in 1941. On January 15, 1944, his father Andrew Jackson received a telegram from the adjutant general advising him that his son, Pvt. James R. Jackson who had been reported missing since July in Saipan, was killed.

James served proudly in the Army during WW-II and gave his life in the service of his country.

His obituary appeared on January 15, 1945 in the Watertown Daily Times of Watertown, New York.

Klock, was also a native of that county, born in 1770, and his early years wer there passed, while in the public schools of the neighborhood he acquired his education. Later he engaged in farming in the old home neighborhood for a long period, but his last years were passed in Watertown, where he died after reaching the eightieth milestone of life's journey. He also owns a farm of two hundred and ten acres in Le Ray. He has an excellent set of building upon the farm which he occupies, and fro many years he conducted business as a retail milk dealer. His agricultural interests have been capably conducted along modern business lines, and have resulted in bring to him creditable and gratifying success. He has sold most of the home place for park purposes, and now owns one hundred acres near by, on Washington street. His political support is given to the Democracy, and he attends the First Presbyterian church.

In 1957 Mr. Klock married Catherine J. Baird, who was born in Charlestown, Montgomery county, New York, in 1838. Her father, Robert Baird, was for many years engaged in farming in Lyme, New York, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Klock, when seventy-five years of age. His wife, who bore the maiden name of Eunice McDuffee, was born in 1810, and was reared in Charlestown. She died at the age of eighty years. Of her four children only one is now living; Anna E., wife of Lester C. Angell, of Three Mile Bay.
